NAPE has evolved over the years through the selfless service and commitment of those who have gone ahead of us. They have instilled in us an enviable culture of excellence and passion that requires continuity for the sustainability of our great Association.

Having passionately served and made significant contributions to NAPE in the last few years, I have now offered myself to serve as the Vice president of NAPE.

If elected, I plan to not only sustain the great strides achieved by my predecessors but work hard to reposition NAPE to continue “to be the leading professional petroleum geosciences association with a global reach”. I intend to:

  - f. Collaborate with Chapter Coordinators to advance the professional well-being of NAPE members in the chapters.
